CERTIFICATE

Encourage students to take-up internships and project work in Indian Knowledge System related Areas/Topics/Disaster Management

This is to certify that all departments at Yogi Vemana University in implementing NEP2020 through innovative project work and internships for postgraduate students in their final year. These initiatives showcase an exemplary commitment to:

- Modern, multidisciplinary, and contemporary topics: Projects delve into relevant, diverse areas across science, arts, and management, reflecting the spirit of NEP2020.
- Real-world relevance: Topics like disaster management, digital education, and sustainable agriculture address pressing societal needs and offer practical solutions.
- Skilling and employability: Internships with organizations like Zuari Cement and Heritage Foods provide students with valuable field experience and enhance their job readiness.
- Local context: Focus on Rayalaseema literature and regional environmental studies fosters a connection to the university's location and its unique challenges and opportunities.

Specific achievements:

- Science departments: Initiatives in Disaster Management (preparation, forecasting, disaster response, relief, and rescue) demonstrate an emphasis on community safety and resilience.
- Arts department: Projects covering diverse topics like NEP implementation, girl child education, and women's empowerment showcase a commitment to social responsibility and equality.
- Languages departments: Exploration of Indian and regional literature fosters cultural understanding and appreciation.
- Biological Sciences: Projects dedicated to agricultural practices like mushroom cultivation and onion farming connect theory with practical application in the local context.
- MBA department: Internships focusing on workplace issues like quality of work life, customer satisfaction, and employee benefits provide valuable exposure to professional settings.
