CERTIFICATE

Intellectual Property Cell

This certificate is awarded to Yogi Vemana University in recognition of its commendable efforts in upholding patient rights and fostering ethical research practices.

1. Promotion of Patient Rights:

It is hereby confirmed that Yogi Vemana University actively encourages its staff to prioritize and uphold the rights of patients in all aspects of healthcare delivery. This commitment is demonstrated through:

- Education and training programs: Regularly providing staff with comprehensive training on patient rights, informed consent, confidentiality, and patient-centred care.
- Policies and procedures: Implementing clear and transparent policies that outline patient rights and responsibilities, ensuring fairness and respect throughout the treatment process.
- Open communication: Encouraging open communication between healthcare professionals and patients, promoting informed decision-making, and addressing patient concerns promptly.

2. Dedication to Research Ethics:

Yogi Vemana University demonstrates its dedication to ethical research practices through the establishment of:

- Research Ethical Cell: This dedicated body ensures that all research conducted within the university adheres to the highest ethical standards, protecting the safety and well-being of research participants.
- Research and Development Cell: The establishment of this separate cell further strengthens the university's commitment to ethical research by providing dedicated resources and expertise to oversee research activities and promote responsible conduct.

This certificate serves as a testament to Yogi Vemana University's ongoing commitment to prioritizing patient rights and ethical research practices. By continually upholding these crucial values, the university contributes to building trust and transparency within the healthcare system and advancing research for the benefit of patients and society.
